BUILDING NONPROFIT BOARDS

Everyday, thousands of nonprofits throughout the five boroughs make our city a better place to live and work. Whether they're delivering health and human services, celebrating arts and culture, or protecting our environment, every nonprofit needs talented and committed volunteers to serve on its Board of Directors.

In recognition of the important role that board members play in supporting the work of local nonprofits, United Way of New York City, in partnership with NYC Service, is launching BoardServeNYC to:

- Encourage more New Yorkers to consider serving on a nonprofit board
- Increase the supply of trained board candidates
- Help more candidates connect to board service opportunities at more nonprofits

VOLUNTEERS

BoardServeNYC provides specialized training to volunteers who want to serve on a board and then connects them to nonprofits seeking new board members. Matches are made based on how closely a volunteer's interests, skills and experience align with what the nonprofit is looking for in a new board member.

BoardServeNYC:

- Connects volunteers with others who share the same passion
- Expands a volunteer's professional and personal networks
- Strengthens a volunteer's leadership skills
- Creates positive change in the community

NONPROFITS

BoardServeNYC connects nonprofits in NYC to talented individuals wishing to join a board, who have received training in nonprofit governance and possess the skills and experience that nonprofits seek in new board members. Through BoardServeNYC, nonprofits also receive support and guidance in how to effectively engage candidates and utilize new board members.

BoardServeNYC:

- Is free to New York City nonprofits
- Provides a stream of talented and trained individuals ready, willing and able to provide board service
- Offers referral and matching services that connect the right candidate to the right nonprofit
- Reenergizes nonprofit boards and positions them to advance to the next level
